

Prominent Members of Board of Aldermen Arrange for Introduction of Ordinance to Legalize Sunday Baseball

SUNDAY BASEBALL SEEMS A CERTAINITY

Gov. Smith Announces He Will Hold Public Hearings on Measure.

ORDINANCE BEING DRAWN

Several Members of Board of Aldermen Ready to Introduce Measure.

Barely had the baseball enthusiasts of New York and vicinity received the cheering news from Albany that Governor Smith had permitted the introduction of an ordinance to legalize the sport, when the Governor announced that he would hold public hearings on the subject, that prominent members of the Board of Aldermen, anxious to see the introduction of an ordinance to legalize the sport, while the general impression prevails that the Governor will sign the measure, the State solon, who declared before taking final action on the bill, would give the citizens of New York an opportunity to express their opinions on the question.

The fact that the bill passed the Senate by 28 to 21 and the Assembly by 23 to 20 indicates the favor with which the State solon regards the proposal. The attitude of the members of the Board of Aldermen is in line with the action of the State Legislature, and the playing of championship games on the first day of the week as soon as the gubernatorial signature has been given to the measure.

The passing of such an ordinance means that championship games will be staged on Sunday in Greater New York by the Giants and Yankees at Polo Grounds and the Dodgers at Brooklyn. President Robert L. Moran of the Board of Aldermen announced that he would introduce an ordinance to legalize the sport, and that he would effect the legislation as applied to this city. Mr. Moran said he was heartily in favor of Sunday baseball and would introduce the ordinance as soon as he could. The Governor had signed the measure.

Borough President Frank L. Dowling also expressed himself in favor of Sunday baseball. He declared that it could be regulated so as not to interfere with religious exercises. In fact, Mr. Dowling was given to understand that they could enjoy themselves at such a healthy sport as baseball in the afternoon they would be content to spend at home. He declared that he was attending some religious service. He announced himself ready and willing to give the project his support in so far as his vote in the Board of Aldermen is concerned.

Alderman John J. O'Rourke is busy drawing up an ordinance that will legalize Sunday afternoon baseball in New York. He intends presenting this resolution to the Board of Aldermen just as soon as word is flashed that the Chief Executive has put his signature to the bill.

The bill as passed by both houses of the Legislature provides that it shall be in effect on the first day of the week after 2 o'clock in the afternoon and to witness which an admission fee may or may not be charged in a city, town or village. The ordinance shall have been adopted by the Common Council or other legislative governing body of the city, town or village permitting such games on such day after such hour.

44 HARVARD MEN OUT FOR FOOTBALL

Coach Rollins Begins Spring Gridiron Practice.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., April 8.—When forty-four husky athletes clad in mole-skin tights trotted into the Harvard Stadium yesterday afternoon, Coach Rollins was chafing in the annals of early spring football practice at Cambridge. Only one "H" man, William Murray, quarterback, had been in the team last year. The rest were new recruits. The coach, who is a former Harvard player, was in the group, but most of the candidates are green men. It was expected that Eddie Casey, the football back, will appear.

HIGH LIGHTS AND SHADOWS IN ALL SPHERES OF SPORT

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 8.—News that the New York Legislature had passed the Sunday baseball bill was hailed with joy here to-night by the officials and players of four major league clubs—the Yankees, Superbas, Giants and Red Sox. The Yankees and Superbas in training here were reinforced for several hours to-night by the Giants and the Red Sox, who passed through this city on their way to Columbus, Georgia, where they open their road tour to-morrow. Col. Jacob Ruppert, who arrived in Jacksonville last night joined with Col. T. H. Huston, Charley Ebbets, John McGraw, John B. Foster and Ed. Barrow in predicting the biggest year the major leagues yet had enjoyed.

"I looked for a record season even before the Legislature passed the bill, but now that we are sure of Sunday baseball the outlook is doubly rosy. While we have no Sunday law as yet, I expect that it will be on the books within the week as Governor Smith has given us to understand that he is strong for Sunday baseball. As it is a local option measure the Board of Aldermen of the City of New York will have to act on it, too, but since the bill passed a resolution favoring Sunday baseball, I think that it is safe to go ahead with our plans. Of course, it will be impossible to revamp the league schedules at this late date, but we will move Monday games in New York ahead to Sundays and rest on Mondays until later in the season, when postponed games will make it necessary to move Mondays too. As to the immediate future I do not know what we are going to do. There is a possibility that the Yankees will play exhibition games at the Polo Grounds on Saturday, April 19, and Sunday, April 20. It is also very likely that we will meet the Athletics at the Polo Grounds on Sunday, April 27, moving the April 28 game ahead."

Looks for Record Crowds on Sundays in New York.

"On Sundays Col. Huston and I expect some of the greatest crowds that ever have jammed the Polo Grounds," continued Col. Ruppert. "We should be turning them away, for Sunday baseball will provide a very healthy form of amusement for thousands who could not go on other days and to thousands of others who have not been in the habit of patronizing the contests at the Polo Grounds. It means the development of a new set of baseball followers in New York. I do not expect that the Sunday games will have any effect on the Saturday attendance. New York has been waiting for this liberal legislation for many years and it is a most happy coincidence that it should come simultaneously with the revival in baseball interest—or perhaps it came because of it. The law will be a great thing for the clubs. It is true, but it also will be a great thing for the followers of baseball and for the moral tone of the city. Now that we have Sunday baseball I expect that the boxing bill will be passed. The men at Albany finally have appreciated the real tenor of the public's desires in that direction."

Charley Ebbets Jubilant Over Success of His Long Fight.

Charley Ebbets tried Sunday games at Old Washington Park in the face of police interference and was a pioneer in the agitation for the passage of a Sunday law. Brooklyn is a great Sunday baseball section and the law will help the club greatly in a financial way since the week day attendance at Ebbets field in the last two years has been very disappointing. McGraw said that he had great confidence all along in Magistrate McGuire's move for Sunday baseball and that he was sure that the public never would regret the passage of the law.

Yankees May Open Season on April 19.

The passage of the Sunday baseball bill by the New York Legislature makes it highly likely that the American League season in New York will be opened four days ahead of schedule. Harry Sparrow, business manager of the Yankees, to-night began negotiations which probably will result in the playing of the first league contest at the Polo Grounds on Saturday, April 19, with the New Yorks taking on the Red Sox.

As the schedule stands the Yankees are to open the season on Wednesday, April 24, at St. Louis. Though Sparrow refused to make any official statement he is trying to keep the opening date as scheduled by moving several late season contests with the Red Sox forward so that the Bostonians will play at the Polo Grounds not only on Saturday, April 19, but on the next day, Sunday. This arrangement calling for practically two series with the Red Sox at the start, with a Sunday thrown in, would mean a tremendous sum for the New York club.

At present the Yankees are playing in Cambridge, Md., on Friday, April 18, and at Wilmington, Del., on Saturday, April 19, both games with the Rochester Internationals. The Wilmington date no doubt will be cancelled as the Yankees want to play at the Polo Grounds on Saturday and Sunday, irrespective of the outcome of the negotiations regarding the Red Sox.

Should the games with Boston may be scheduled for April 19 and 20 the Sunday baseball bill must become a law. Should the law be placed on the books before April 18 there is little doubt that the Yanks and the Red Sox will play on the 19th and 20th. In addition to getting the sanction of the law the New York club must get the permission of the league to move the games forward. There is no question that this permission will be given. The National League season is not to be opened until April 19, but in order to take advantage of Patriotic day on April 18 the Bostonians were given permission to start ahead of schedule, with the Brooklyn club as the attraction.

May 13th Sunday Baseball Over in New Jersey.

Sunday baseball means a lot not only to the home clubs in the big city but to every other team in both major leagues. Ed Barrow declared that he was confident that the Sunday crowds in New York would outdo those in Chicago. With New York in line on the Sunday proposition it means that only Philadelphia, Boston and Cleveland are on the outside looking in. The chances are that now that New York has shown the way other States will follow suit.

Sunday baseball in New York State will help not only the major but the minor leagues as well. It means the immediate reorganization of the New York State League and it means a brightening of the outlook for the International League, the Eastern League, and possibly the Syracuse. However, while the International will gain in New York it is bound to lose in New Jersey. When the fans of Newark and Jersey City are confronted with the opportunity to see the major league stars in action at the Polo Grounds they are not likely to patronize their home games. The journey from Park Place, Newark, to the Polo Grounds, by way of the tube and Ninth avenue elevated express takes only an hour. Newark and Jersey City are only a few minutes ride from the Polo Grounds. They want the best they can get, and they will go to the Polo Grounds, or we are grossly mistaken. At any rate, Sunday ball in New York means the cancellation of all exhibition games which the Giants and the Yankees have booked in Newark, Jersey City, Paterson, New Haven and other places.

TRAP SHOOTING TITLE WON BY TRACY LEWIS

"Kills" 98 Out of 100 in Long Island Championship.

PORT WASHINGTON, L. I., April 8.—Tracy H. Lewis, Jr., out of 100 clay birds in the annual Long Island Sound championship tournament at the traps of the Manhasset Bay Yacht Club here to-day and won the championship. Despite the fact that he missed only two of the fifty birds, he won the trophy for the longest run of the day. The honor in that respect fell to Dr. George H. Martin, who broke 93 straight—the last 92 of which he aimed and the physician was going so strong at the close that Ralph H. Spotts, a former American champion, remarked that he would be shooting yet if the conditions did not place 100 clay birds as a maximum. The score:

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., April 8.—With the Dodgers leading, 4 to 3, in the seventh inning, Peck, a powerful left-handed pitcher, hit a three-base home run, clearing the bases and sending in runs that won for the Yankees—Score, 8 to 4.

Peck's home run, which cleared the bases and sent in runs that won for the Yankees, was a long drive, clearing the bases and sending in runs that won for the Yankees. The Yankees were leading, 4 to 3, in the seventh inning, and Peck's home run cleared the bases and sent in runs that won for the Yankees.

Dodgers Start Well.

The Dodgers got off to a fast start in the opening frame, getting away to a three run lead on a trio of one liners and a sacrifice fly. They got their fourth run in the seventh, when they bunched three singles and a sacrifice. Peffer started for the Dodgers and before he could get warmed up he led a run in the first inning and a brace of counts in the second. From then on until the seventh, when Grimes took the Brooklyn pitcher, the Dodgers were in the lead. The Yankees were leading, 4 to 3, in the seventh inning, and Peck's home run cleared the bases and sent in runs that won for the Yankees.

PROF. CORWIN QUILTS ELI ATHLETIC BOARD

Says University Duties Caused Him to Resign.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., April 8.—As a shock to Yale followers came the announcement to-day that Prof. Robert N. Corwin, the famous captain and end of the 1886 football team, had resigned his position as chairman of the Yale board of control of the university athletic association, which he has held for the last five years.

Prof. Corwin was known to every Yale man, because of the high standards of amateur sport he has at all times required. It had been thought that he resigned because of the students' clamor for reconstruction in athletics, but the reason stated was that the additional burden which he was carrying in connection with the joint committee on entrance examinations made it impossible to continue in his former capacity.

ALL TESTIMONY IN IN FED LEAGUE SUIT

Both Sides Ask Directed Verdict—Heydler Tells About Reserve Clauses.

WASHINGTON, April 8.—Motions for directed verdicts in the federal suit by the National and American leagues against the players, argued by counsel for the Baltimore Federal League club and for the National and American leagues at the conclusion of a day of testimony in the federal court here, were denied by Judge E. A. Tamm. The suit, which was filed in the federal court here, is to enforce the $500,000 damages suit of the Baltimore club against organized baseball.

The jury hearing the case had been denied for the day when the motions for directed verdicts were made. The proceedings were interrupted by the adjournment of court until to-morrow when Justice Stafford is expected to hand down a ruling.

Completion of testimony was immediately followed by argument by George Wharton Pepper, counsel for the defendants, and by the argument of the plaintiff's counsel. He was interrupted by the attorney for the Baltimore club, who informed the court that the defense had anticipated a move, whereupon Justice Stafford ruled that the Baltimore club as plaintiff should be heard first on any such proceedings.

John Heydler, president of the National League, presented the last testimony regarding the practice of holding players on "reserve" lists. The suit, which was filed in the federal court here, is to enforce the $500,000 damages suit of the Baltimore club against organized baseball.
